RESPONSE—SPECIFIC INSTRUCTIONS
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Patients who are in assisted living or board and care housing are considered to be living in the community with formal assistive services. • Formal assistive services refers to community-based services provided through organizations or by paid helpers. Examples: homemaking services under Medicaid waiver programs, personal care services provided by a home health agency, paid assistance provided by an individual, home-delivered meals provided by organizations like Meals-on-Wheels. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> – Therapy services provided in an outpatient setting would not be considered formal assistance. • Informal services are provided by friends, family, neighbors, or other individuals in the community for which no financial compensation is provided. Examples: assistance with ADLs provided by a family member, transportation provided by a friend, meals provided by church members (i.e., meals not provided by the church organization itself, but by individual volunteers). • Noninstitutional hospice is defined as the patient receiving hospice care at home or a caregiver's home, not in an inpatient hospice facility.
